NEW IN 2013

Christian Liberty Press will be offering several new titles this year. We are releasing new editions of two kindergarten titles and a new sixth grade literature course within the next six weeks. Later in the year, we will be announcing more new and revised titles.

KINDERGARTEN UPDATES

We will soon be releasing new editions of two of our standard kindergarten courses: Adventures in Phonics Level A and Hearts &

Hands. An updated phonics teacher's manual is also being released. They have each been newly laid out, include new illustrations, and were updated with consistent letter style and handwriting height. Both of these new editions are written by Florence Lindstrom, the same author who has written several of our early elementary publications.

Adventures in Phonics Level A

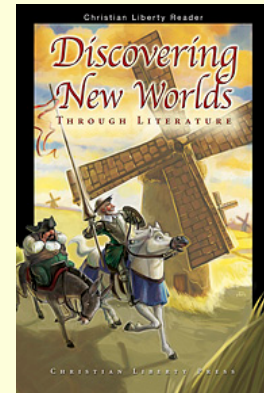

To begin with, we are releasing the third edition of the first course in our Adventures in Phonics series. Learning phonics is fundamental for children to develop proper reading skills. This course begins a formal study of phonics—starting with short vowel sounds and logically progressing through consonants, long vowels, and beyond. It includes consistent drills and repetition of the basic skills that will help ensure comprehension.

The teacher's edition of the phonics workbook helps instructors teach the basic phonetic principles to students. It leads teachers in effectively helping students to pronounce letters and words and to read words and sentences. It also provides answers to the questions and exercises within the workbook.

Hearts and Hands

Another venerable kindergarten workbook that is being released as a new edition is Hearts & Hands. It is intended to develop students' skills in letters and numbers, phonics and math, and handwriting and hand-eye coordination. This is a drill book intended to lay the foundation for children's future development in the basic skills of reading, writing, and arithmetic.

Discovering New Worlds

We are expanding the Christian Liberty Reader series by releasing our new sixth grade Discovering New Worlds Through Literature. This new book is an addition to our line of sixth grade courses, rather than a replacement for an existing book. Along with the reader, we have developed an accompanying test packet, teacher manual, and student exercises workbook.

Discovering New Worlds is a colorful anthology of literature that will expand the literary knowledge and vocabulary of readers. It introduces new and classic authors through character-building and life-enriching prose and poetry. Readers will be inspired and motivated as they discover new worlds through literature ... to the glory of God.
